

Visiting SPAC School of the Arts

A social narrative for visiting the school

1 The School of the Arts (SOTA) is located at

99 South Broadway
Saratoga Springs, NY 12866

Our studios are behind the National Museum of Dance.

There is usually plenty of parking.

Other times there can be many cars in the parking lot.

2

From the parking lot, you can follow the purple SOTA signs to help you find the front door.

There are three designated wheelchair accessible spaces and there is a ramp at the end of the parking lot near our main entrance.

3 Our front door is down a short path. You will pass a lamp post and there is a big painted ballet shoe outside.

4 You will enter through two sets of doors.

If the second set of doors is locked or if you need assistance, you can always ring the doorbell on the wall and one of our SOTA educators will come greet you at the door.

The school has a long hallway.

As you move down the hallway, there is a water bottle fill station on the right. If you forget to bring a water bottle, we always have plastic cups for your to use to get a drink.

Just past the water fill station is our administration office.

Our school administrator and teaching artists are available to answer any questions you might have.

7

As you continue down the hallway, the entrances to all three studios are on your left.

Studio 1 is where we host most of our music classes.

There is a big piano in the corner.

8

Studio 2 is where we host most of our dance classes.

Sometimes, a theatre class might meet in Studio 2 even though the wall outside says “DANCE.”

9

Studio 3 is where we host most of our theatre classes.

Sometimes, a dance class might meet in Studio 3 even though the wall outside says “THEATRE.”

10 At the end of the hallway, across from Studio 3, there are restrooms.

11 There is a common area with tables and chairs. There is also a small library of children's books and some toys.
